FRANK H. DUNLAP, TREASURER.

SALISBURY, N. H., Feb. 22, 1892.

This certifies that I have examined the accounts of the treasurer and find them correctly cast and properly vouched.

THOMAS H. WHITAKER, AUDITOR.

School Report.

In presenting our annual report it is not necessary to enter into any extended remarks on an educational system which is substantially the foundation stone of all our institutions. The education of the people is the guardian of our liberties, and it becomes us then to prize and cherish them. If we would have our children good citizens, useful men and women, we should educate them to as high a standard as possible, for it is the early training that is to shape their destinies and give them character when they arrive at manhood and womanhood.

In selecting teachers we have endeavored to procure such as were adapted to the schools under their charge. We think we have been fortunate the past year in securing such, with few exceptions. Some that have been highly recommended have not proved what we expected, and others have exceeded our expectations.

A great improvement is needed in the matter of prompt attendance. Parents, do not think the school can go on as well with several of the pupils late or absent. We find that those scholars having the best record of attendance exhibit the best evidence of progress. Parents, kindly help your children to form the habits of punctuality. Help them and help the school. It is the earnest co-operation of parents at home with the pupils and teachers in schools that gives the best results. The school attendance of the third term has been much affected by the epidemic that has prevailed. The schools at the South and Centre villages have suffered the most, and the board decided to close those schools, as there were more than half that did not attend, and use the money when it would be more beneficial for all. These hindrances have not been without their effect upon the schools, yet by the earnest endeavors of the teachers there has been generally quite satisfactory advancement among the pupils. The school board has paid for conveying scholars to school in certain cases, as can be seen by the financial statements of this report; believing it economy to do so rather than support two schools of five scholars each.

During the past year the school-house at Smith Corner has been extensively repaired and with another coat of paint in the spring it will be a neat, commodious house. We made minor repairs on the house at Raccoon Hill by shingling one side, as we found it in a bad condition, but would not recommend to lay out much money on it where it stands. It should be removed where it would better accommodate the scholars; then repaired in a substantial manner. After this house is repaired the school-houses of this town will be in good condition, except the house at the south road, which will need some repairs in the near future, perhaps shingling; although we made some repairs on the roof which may answer for this year, yet there should be repairs made in the school-room and on the woodshed at once.

In conclusion we are pleased to report that the general conditions of our schools are steadily improving, and in the opinion of the school board the schools of Salisbury are equal in efficiency to those of other towns of similar privileges; and if the same interest is continued for their support and managed with economy we see no reason why they will not continue so.
